8. CREATIVE WORKS OR ACTIVITIES

In 2020 we were faced with the COVID-19 Pandemic, with the closure of the University and the eventful quarantine, we were faced with re-inventing ourselves as educators by exploring virtual platforms. The Implant Center faculty (Martin & Gonzaga) converted our conference room into a production level venue for the purpose of live streaming, webinar hosting or recording of lectures. From March 14th to June 1st, over 45 virtual presentations were given by Implant Center Faculty to University students and residents within and outside the United States.

Over the past decade, digital technology aimed at streamlining patient care has been introduced into the clinical environment on multiple levels, whether for data acquisition, implant planning or fabrication of templates and restorations. We have recognized the significance of this technology and have had the opportunity to acquire a good portion of it through grant or loner projects. With this hardware, we have developed several digital workflow pathways for our residents and scholars giving them the opportunity to experience the benefits of this technology prior to graduation.

In 2018 we submitted and was awarded grant support (32,000) to host a DDI Fellow (Digital Dental Implant) focused on the use of this technology. In March of 2019 we secured a second round of funding for another DDI Fellow ($42,000). Our plans are to continue this Fellowship with goals to expand our reach to Universities interested in the use of this technology for collaboration.

2019 was also met with the launch of our CE Curriculum offered through the University of Florida - Digital Concentration Series- 2-day courses focused on specific areas of digital technology and implant dentistry. Grant support has been secured by corporations: Straumann, 3-Shape and Coredent Advancements.

Developed an advanced hands-on workshop that focuses on full-arch planning and placement of implants with simultaneous denture conversion for immediate loading. This workshop incorporates CBCT guided planning and surgery (parallel and tilted implant positioning), abutment selection and step-by-step denture conversion.

Developed a hands-on workshop that incorporates digital planning (CBCT with software), desktop scanning, CBCT guided surgery and restoration of a clinical straightforward situation for replacement of missing teeth 29-31.

Developed a workshop and manual utilizing macro-videography for dental applications

Developed a comprehensive hands-on curriculum highlighting the use of CBCT Guided Surgery in the placement of two maxillary implants into a simulated patient model.

Developed a comprehensive hands-on curriculum utilizing the Straumann Dental Implant System highlighting immediate load techniques in the edentulous arch.

Implemented interactive lectures for CE participants based upon Turning Point Technologies (RF devices) and PowerPoint software.

Created a website that CE participants could visit to review a QuickTime (.mov) movie of the lecture presented at course previously attended. Future plans are to develop a comprehensive website for Patients, Students and Doctors that is located at the UFCD homepage.

Developed several dental instruments to aid in the clinical treatment of patients with dental implants. One was accepted by the University of Florida to pursue patent protection.

Assisted in the development of a Continuum in Implant Dentistry, A seven weekend multi-disciplinary and comprehensive continuing education course on implant dentistry.

Assisted in the development of the Executive Training Seminars, A two-week course designed to train entry level sales representatives and executives for Straumann USA about dentistry and dental implants.

Developed a comprehensive hands-on curriculum utilizing the Straumann Dental Implant System. Models for partial edentulism and complete edentulism were designed.

Developed a surgical template hands-on curriculum that is based on current techniques cited in peer-reviewed journals.

Developed a restorative hands-on curriculum focused on addressing current restorative techniques utilized in the treatment of partial and completely edentulous patients.

Developed an interactive CD-ROM for the dental professional aimed at disseminating large amounts of clinical and laboratory information related to the University of Florida's Center for Implant Dentistry and its related components.

Developed an ongoing seminar-based lecture series for faculty, residents and students at the University of Florida related to the field of Implant Dentistry.

9. RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

RESEARCH NARRATIVE

Implant Dentistry is a rapidly growing area in our discipline. Approaches to patient care are constantly being influenced by the outcomes found within the peer reviewed literature. In addition, the quality and evolution of implant materials and manufacturing is also improving at a rapid pace and the need for sound clinical trials are paramount in determining if new technology can positively influence clinical outcomes. Through the participation in international activities such as the ITI Scholarship program, appointment to committees in the area of implant dentistry and presentations at scientific symposiums, I have helped gained exposure for our Center in the international community as a resource for conducting clinical research.

Since 2004, I have had the opportunity to be involved in two five year prospective randomized clinical trials as a principle investigator evaluating changes in implant design and materials on their influence on implant survival and success. These clinical trials have resulted in three publications in two journals with impact factors of 3.889 and 3.589. The implant design and materials studied are currently being used in clinical practice today.
